CALL FOR PRESENTATIONS

LEADERSHIP SKILLS FOR CHANGING TIMES

Lambda State is pleased to announce a Leadership Management Seminar entitled: Leadership Skills for Changing Times in the summer 2016. This seminar will be held this next year and the Taming Tech Seminar will return in the summer 2017. Tentative dates are June 21 and 22, 2016 and the tentative site is Bradley University in Peoria. Plan to attend and share this form with your colleagues, members and non-members, female and male, who may be interested in presenting and attending. Professional Development hours will be provided.

We are soliciting presentations for this seminar on a variety of topics, including leadership styles, teacher leaders, parliamentary procedures, time management, multi-tasking, organization, technology, teamwork-delegation-collaboration, culture and diversity, co-teaching, mentoring, teacher evaluations, innovations in teaching, EdTPA, working with the 21st century teacher, to name a few. We also welcome other ideas.

Please complete the form below and return to Bev Johns no later than September 15. All speakers will be notified of their acceptance and tentative schedule no later than October 1, 2015.
