What Will You Say?

As the 2013–2014 biennium draws to a close, chapter nomination committees are charged with finding members willing to tackle leadership positions for the following years. Should you be asked to fill such a position, what will your reaction be? After all, our lives are already overburdened with demands on our time. No one wants just “one more” thing to do!

Alpha Gamma president Olga Granat, in her initial column for the 2011–2013 biennium, wrote:

When I joined Delta Kappa Gamma, I never aspired to be anything else other than a good member. Some years I did not even feel that I was able to do that, since I missed so many meetings, but in the last few years I was able to dedicate more time to serving our chapter. I started off by volunteering to print stickers and name tags. I then moved up to the newsletter and then the website. All of these were things that I was already doing in other areas of my life so it was not difficult; and it seemed that those things that I could do were helpful to our chapter.

When I was asked to serve as president, my first inclination was to say NO! My life is already too busy, I thought; how in the world could I take this on? Well, after much contemplation, I decided I should, I could, and I would. I should, because it's the right thing to do. This organization supports and involves one of the most important elements of our society, educators. I could, because of the wonderful executive board and members that are part of our chapter. I feel so blessed to be among such wonderful, supportive women. Which all led to... I would. I will work hard to do the best job I can and know that even though I am the “president”, what is really going to make a difference is an executive board that is already on task working hard to make sure that our chapter has a fantastic biennium.

Pascal Bailey, Kentucky's 1st vice president, commented in the January/February 2014 Alpha Gamma State NEWS:

I don't have to tell you that DKG is an excellent support network and can help strengthen your abilities. DKG is a nurturing society. You will receive all of the love, support, and training necessary to fulfill your duties and you won't have to rely on your own abilities exclusively... Do your part to sponsor new members, nominate officers, and serve when asked. This is the true foundation of our wondrous society and you will be richly rewarded.

Our own Indiana State convention in April, CCOT in June, and the International convention in July will all be opportunities to experience for yourself the camaraderie and support Delta Kappa Gamma has to offer. You won't be alone – and you'll wonder how you ever got along without it!

It's time to nominate and elect new leadership for chapters. Many chapters are finding it increasingly more difficult to find members willing to take a leadership position. I know that your chapter will become frustrated if this is the predicament you find yourself in, but please don't think about dissolution. Call me and I will make a chapter visit and we will work together to see if we can work something out. Your liaison is available to help you as well. Please take a leap of faith and say yes when you are called to serve. We will offer you training at Kokomo and Bloomington in June. The groups are small enough to have personal attention, and I will stay afterwards to answer any additional questions you may have. Be confident in your abilities to be a leader and strengthen your chapter with your enthusiasm!

It's that time again. The Alpha Epsilon State Conference is coming in April. This is for any member! If you are leading at this time, we need you to come and actively participate in the decision-making process. We will be electing a State Treasurer, voting on changes to the standing rules, and looking at the proposed budget.

Delta Kappa Gamma is like any other organization in the sense that a member who gets involved will feel connected. The support is there for anyone wanting to make a difference in the lives of others as well as her own.

A breath of fresh air, to remind us to look beyond the snow...

Spring

*Today, there's reason for you to smile,
Look at the beauty around you,
The trees are green, flowers bloom.
Many colors of flowers are peeping through.
And look at the sky with its patches of blue!!!
Cardinals are busy building nests,
The robin sings a happy song,
The bluebirds are flying by,
And the noisy bluejay sings loud and long.
When Spring arrives at last,
And wintertime is through
Our spirits seem to soar,*

*We count our blessings, too,
So go out and enjoy the sunshine
Listen to the birds sing,
Be still and appreciate God's creations
Showing the signs of Spring!!

Have You Met Our Goal?

Sherry Watkins, 2nd Vice President/Membership Chair

Have you met our goal this year towards every member getting a new member? Membership in Delta Kappa Gamma is a gift, and one of the important gifts is the legacy that has been passed down to us from our founders.

After teaching in public schools, founder Annie Webb Blanton joined the faculty of North Texas State Normal College where she authored textbooks and became the first woman to head the Texas State Teachers' Association.

She was elected as the first woman Texas State Superintendent of Public Instruction—the first woman to be elected to a statewide office in Texas. During her two terms she instituted the free distribution of textbooks, updated certification requirements, enhanced teachers' salaries, and improved rural education.

After completing her PhD, she taught at the University of Texas Austin the rest of her life. She became the third female faculty member there to become a full professor. In 1929 Annie founded Delta Kappa Gamma. She insisted members be “of strong personality, unimpeachable honor, unselfish nature and fine professional attitude.”

Our other founders also each left a legacy. Founder Lela Lee Williams led a march in Dallas for teacher pay increases. Founder Mamie Sue Bastion lobbied the Houston Representatives in order to get an education bill out of committee and onto the floor where it passed.

Founder Lalla M. Odom, having taught on a regular contract, refused a substitute contract after she married. She was instrumental in changing the practice of offering contracts only to unmarried women. These women—change agents—set the stage for the Society to be actively involved in the political/legislative process as well as to enhance education.

Can you imagine how proud Annie Webb Blanton and our other founders would be knowing that we now have approximately 85,000 members in 18 countries? Thank you for your willingness to become a member of our society and for your efforts in helping us be change agents for promoting professional and personal growth of women educators and excellence in education. By accepting the challenge of “everyone getting one” this year, we each continue Annie’s wonderful legacy by offering our gift of DKG membership to others.

Annie Webb Blanton, founder of Delta Kappa Gamma

International Projects: Educational Excellence and World Fellowship

Leslie Hamman, International Projects Chair

The current international projects – Schools for Africa, Supporting Early-career Educators (SEE) – fall under the umbrella of the Educational Excellence Committee. World Fellowship Grants fall under the umbrella of the World Fellowship Committee. At the state level, these fall under the umbrella of two committees: Educational Excellence and International Projects. Schools for Africa and World Fellowship ask for monetary donations while SEE involves our time and talents. Below is information from the DKG website as a glimpse into these projects and focuses.

Schools for Africa

Since 1997, DKG has supported UNICEF's work around the globe. Schools for Africa – a partnership between UNICEF, the Nelson Mandela Foundation, and the Hamburg Society – helps the most disadvantaged children in Africa to get a quality education. Because of DKG's support and the support of others, Schools for Africa benefits 5 million children by increasing access to education in 11 of Africa's neediest countries: Angola, Burkina Faso, Ethiopia, Madagascar, Malawi, Mali, Mozambique, Niger, Rwanda, South Africa, and Zimbabwe.

Supporting Early-career Educators

In order to share the vision, Leading Women Educators Impacting Education Worldwide, and to strengthen our Society, the Educational Excellence Committee established Supporting Early-career Educators (SEE) as its second international project during the 2012 International Convention in New York City. SEE encourages members/chapters to be creative in support of early-career educators with a variety of strategies, such as

- giving support for phone calls and visits,
- helping with lesson plans and bulletin board ideas,
- offering advice on classroom management and parent-teacher relations; and
- providing support in appropriate and practical ways.

Chapters and members during the 2012-2014 biennium have been asked to keep records of the ways they are supporting early-career educators and the hours members spent on this project. This form can be found on the DKG website.

World Fellowship

The World Fellowship Program began in 1946 as a project to aid women in war-torn countries. To date more than 858 women from over 117 countries have received fellowships to enable them to pursue advanced study in the United States and Canada. Women chosen for World Fellowship grants in 2013-2014 received $4,000 (U.S.) grants for graduate study at universities in Canada and the United States.

Communications & Publicity Committee

As we begin the new year, the Communications/Publicity Committee wants you to be aware that unauthorized use of pictures, poems, cartoons, or anything copyrighted on a website or in a publication is illegal. An individual or group can be sued. When possible, use images that have been created by one of your members. There are also websites that offer images. Follow their instructions, since some grant use only if you acknowledge them.

Recognition Due to Local Media

Penny Schaefer, International Convention Publicity Chair

Let your voice be heard! Make a difference in your community. Chapters and individuals have the opportunity to nominate outstanding local media sources for their contributions to education.

The Delta Kappa Gamma Society International will recognize radio and television stations, newspapers, and related websites that provide outstanding coverage in the state of Indiana. Those selected will receive the Excellence in Media Award at the 2014 International Convention in Indianapolis.

The nomination form can be found on page six. It also is available on the Alpha Epsilon State (Indiana) website. The deadline for submitting nominations is May 1, 2014.

Let your voice be heard for a local media outlet that speaks with distinction for education.

APRIL STATE CONFERENCE AT NEW CASTLE

Professional / Educational / Personal Growth Sessions

Saturday April 26, 2014

Session I 10:15 – 11:00

Simple Art Projects to Do with your Students, Kids, or Grandchildren

Presenter: Carole Williams

The presenter will demonstrate various art projects she taught on her visit to a Chinese school.

If Reading is Fun and Fundamental, Why Can't I Read this?

Presenter: Madeline Marcella Garvin

The presentation is an overview of censorship as well as the effect censorship has on the acquisition of knowledge and an instructor's freedom to educate.

The President's Promise

Presenter: Lois Vogel

This session provides an open invitation to chapter presidents and newly elected chapter presidents for the next biennium. Questions and concerns will be addressed.

Session II 11:15 – 12:00

My Chinese Teaching Experience

Presenter: Jitka Nelson

The program will cover information about a one month long teaching experience at the Honghu Pond Primary School in Jinhua, China. A PowerPoint presentation will provide information historical background, educational system, cultural exchange and sightseeing.

We Can Do This!

Presenters: Kaaren Rodman and Faye Peter "How does one turn around a chapter from slow death to vibrant life?" Participants in this workshop will be introduced to strategic action planning and will learn how to use it to proactively plan for the vibrant future of their chapters. Participants will leave with the materials and resources they will need to complete their action plans within their chapters.

Art and the Kindergartner

Presenter: Jenny Kinser

The PowerPoint presentation would show how famous art would be used to inspire children's art work in the classroom.

Strategic Action Planning for Chapters? "We Can Do This!"

Kaaren Rodman, Omega SAP Committee Chairman

The Strategic Action Planning Committee would like to invite chapter presidents and all DKG members interested in proactive planning to attend our conference workshop on strategic action planning for chapters. If you have had concerns recently about the overall health of your chapter, we can get you started on creating a plan to restore its good health and to take steps toward future success. As a participant, you will learn the process of strategic planning on a scale that is relevant for chapters, and you will leave the workshop with materials, resources and the experience that will enable you to complete the process with a small committee back at home. Concerns that we all have for our chapters can be addressed by frank conversations and proactive planning. Let's get started at the workshop. "We can do this!"

Did you know ...

that DKG members can earn Professional Growth Plan (PGP) points towards license renewal at chapter and state level meetings and conferences?

Professional growth experience points are calculated as one PGP for 1 clock hour of the activity, based on (but not limited to) a specific list of activities (see chart below). Check with your chapter Professional Growth Committee chair regarding your chapter programs. State activities for which PGP points can be earned are indicated on the Alpha Epsilon State website: www.deltakappagamma.org/IN

A total of 90 PGP points are required for submission, and you can keep track of your own points through your LVIS (Licensing Verification and Information System) account. (See the IDEOE website for details on setting up your account.)

The 2014 Excellence in Media Award

You already have received updates about the 2014 International Convention to be held in Indianapolis in July. You have been encouraged to participate both for your own personal and professional development and as hostesses to the convention attendees.

You now have an opportunity to nominate outstanding Hoosier newspapers, television or radio stations, even related websites that have championed the role of education. The selected media outlets will be recognized at the Celebration Luncheon on Wednesday, July 30th during the convention.

Inside this issue of your state newsletter is the application form (p.6) plus an article explaining the award (p.5). You also can download this information from the state website at www.deltakappagamma.org/IN.

Deadline for submitting nominations is May 1, 2014. Speak up for a local media outlet that stands up for education!
