Alpha Iota State DKG—Michigan

The 2014 Distinguished Service Award: Twesigye Jackson Kaguri

The Distinguished Service Award is given by Alpha Iota State to an individual who has provided exceptional service to education in our state. This year's recipient is Twesigye Jackson Kaguri of East Lansing, Michigan. He was nominated by Alpha Lambda Chapter.

Twesigye Jackson Kaguri was born and raised in Uganda in the small village of Nyakagezi. At a very young age he demonstrated an unquenchable desire to learn, which led him to study at and graduate from Makerere University in Kampala. During this time he co-founded the human rights organization, "Human Rights Concerns", to help victims of human rights violations in Uganda and to educate the public about their rights. In the 90s he became a visiting scholar at Columbia University where he studied Human Rights Advocacy. Over the years he has been involved extensively in international community efforts as a human rights advocate, fundraiser, and inspirational speaker.

In 2001, Kaguri founded The Nyaka AIDS Orphans Project in response to the devastating effects of AIDS in his hometown. The organization, which recently celebrated its tenth anniversary, provides free education to children who have lost one or both parents to HIV/AIDS. In addition to two schools, it also operates a library, a working farm and nutrition program, medical clinic, clean water system, and a support program for the grandmothers who care for up to 14 children at a time.

Since founding the project, Kaguri has also become an author. In "A School for My Village" he shares how he came to build the first school and the struggles he faced during the first few years. In 2010 he resigned as Interim Senior Director of Development in the College of Agriculture and Natural Resources at Michigan State University to focus full-time on The Nyaka AIDS Orphans Project. Kaguri has been named a Heifer International Hero, recognized in Time Magazine's "Power of One" Series, and spoken to the UN about his work. When not visiting the schools in Uganda or working at his office in Okemos, MI, Kaguri travels the country to speak with students and supporters about the organization.

TJ, as he is affectionately known, shared how he struggled to get an education with his parents' support. How his father broke a pencil into five pieces for each one of his children because they could not afford more than one pencil. TJ gave each one of the convention attendees a colorful book that he authored entitled "Sitwe Joseph Goes to School" about an orphan boy who could not afford to go to school and how he found out about the free school for AIDS orphans.

Twesigye Jackson Kaguri is changing futures for persons in his community and touched our lives that day. Alpha Iota State members took up a free will offering and collected $1100 to buy 114,000 pencils for AIDS orphans in Uganda. Alpha Iota State of The Delta Kappa Gamma Society International joins other organizations who have honored Twesigye Jackson Kaguri for his selfless caring with The 2014 Distinguished Service Award.

President's Message

Alpha Iota State

2013-2015 Biennium Theme

Education: Our Focus, Our Future

Let's Support Our Educators!

Just a reminder that one of Alpha Iota's two state projects for the biennium is "Supporting Our Educators". As chapters are preparing and planning for the upcoming year, consider projects and programs that tie in with this theme. Working with our educators can become an ongoing chapter project, or it can be the focus of a single chapter meeting. New and veteran teachers alike can benefit from our help in the classroom, and from financial and professional assistance. Teachers are still, for a number of reasons, leaving the profession at an alarming rate. By offering our help, we may be able to reduce their burdens and help them grow into seasoned, experienced and prepared educators. In addition, as school districts face more and more budget crises, teachers have fewer supplies and resources for their classrooms. As DKG members, working and retired, we have a great deal of experience and background knowledge we can share with others. Our help, guidance and donations can make a big difference.

Many chapters across the state have participated in this project, and have shared details of their involvement. Retired educators can do some of these tasks. In the schools and in classrooms, volunteers can help by making posters, designing bulletin boards, entering data, sorting and storing supplies, books and resources, and decorating the room for the new school year. Volunteers are often needed at Kindergarten Roundup, Science and Book Fairs, schedule pickup, and open house events. Individuals have helped in school media centers and libraries, checked papers and helped prepare teaching materials and formulate lesson plans. Some have worked on art projects with students, offered one-on-one help with reading and writing, and worked with small groups of music students. Reading to groups of younger children helps foster a love of books and stories. Tutoring older students in mathematics and other subject areas can build the learner's confidence. Reading and working with children in local hospitals is another opportunity to make a difference. Do what you can to help students you know with learning difficulties. All these can give the classroom teacher more time to spend with everyone. (Just a reminder: always follow protocol and rules for building volunteers and visitors.)

Donations of school supplies can have quite an impact. According to Huntington Bank's eighth annual Backpack Index of July 2013, the amount that school employees and parents spend on out-of-pocket supplies and activities has increased at a rate higher than the Consumer Price Index, a common measurement of inflation. (MEA Voice, September 2013, page 5.) Many classroom teachers spend a considerable amount of money on materials and supplies for their students. Sales on school supplies now start in July. Contact teachers you know or ask in the schools to determine what supplies are most needed. Can your chapter generate funds to buy pencils, glue sticks, paper, markers and such to give to a teacher or teachers in your local district?

You could have a "Back-to-School Shower" for a classroom teacher or a local school. How about gift baskets of supplies for newly hired teachers? Your chapter might also be in a position to award mini-grants to teachers to help fund classroom projects and activities.

Educators, new and seasoned, need to know that their work, time and efforts are valued. Send personal thank-you notes to teachers. How about a gift card to a local bookstore or restaurant? Bring in goodies for breakfast or lunch. It's a chance to chat for a few minutes and find out how we can help and what they need. Give a gift of a pair of movie tickets, a home-cooked meal or cut their lawn when their school schedule is tight. How about a basket of tea, scones and fresh fruit? Take a teacher out for coffee or ice cream. Things like this are a terrific way to say "Thank you. We are thinking of you and value what you do!"

You can also serve as a mentor or sounding board for new teachers. Can you help a teacher research and apply for grants? Can you offer advice on classroom management and discipline? Do you have suggestions for classroom activities? This could be done one-on-one or as a group presentation sponsored by the your chapter.

Make plans this summer to help teachers when the school year opens for the fall. Supporting the educators in your area will benefit not just the teachers, but also the students, their families and the school community. It reflects the mission, the vision and the purposes of The Delta Kappa Gamma Society International. It is who we are!

Chapter Presidents and Treasurers - Email Addresses Are Needed!!

For Alpha Iota State Membership Data Base

The government has passed a new law that commercial mailers now have to run all mailing addresses through the National Change of Address Registry. During the last mailing of The Wolverine, 85 members did not have a forward address card on file. In order for the information highway to flow smoothly we need current email addresses of members. International recently sent out a blast email and had 8000 addresses rejected. Please add and update email addresses to the chapter listings sent to all chapter presidents and treasurers and then send a copy by email or snail mail no later than October 31, 2014 to Loretta Miles, State Treasurer, 7099 Reflection Dr NE, Comstock Park, MI 49321 or [jl miles1@att.net](mailto:jl miles1@att.net). Loretta will add the information to Alpha Iota State's membership data base and send them to International.

Dr. Geraldine Ann Green, Beta Delta Chapter

"Once, twice, three times a lady" describes how Gerry, our Beta Delta sister lived her life. She was always a lady in thoughts, words and deeds. A childhood friend of hers remembers growing up on Woodward Avenue and visiting Green's Meat Market, the family business, on East Jefferson. She also praised Gerry for always being "such a lady, so refined and intelligent, living by high standards". These times are fondly remembered as the innocent times in both the neighborhood and their early school years at St Francis Xavier in Ecorse.

Gerry did not stop with a high school degree from St. Francis Xavier; she yearned for further education and challenges. She graduated with a teaching degree from Marygrove College in 1949 and received her PhD in Mathematics Education from the University of Michigan in 1969. Her teaching career spanned 61 years: 19 years in Detroit Public Schools, 21 years in the Royal Oak District and the final 21 years of her vast educational career at Eastern Michigan University. She retired with Emeritus status in 2010.

Obviously, teaching was very important to her but her involvement in education spread beyond the classroom. A colleague from Bloomfield Hills Schools remembers working with Gerry, "a kind, thoughtful woman", on various events. Gerry served as President of the Michigan Council of Teachers of Mathematics and conducted Math Ed. Conferences at EMU. An EMU colleague who Gerry hired in 1995 described her as a "wonderful friend and mentor". With offices next to each other, they often lunched together, talking "shop" and, also, about some of Gerry's other favorites: shopping and the arts.

Our Beta Delta sister loved the arts and was a supporter of art museums in Detroit, Chicago and Washington, D.C. She spent many enjoyable afternoons and evenings at the Detroit Symphony Orchestra as well as attending plays and various lecture series. Devoted to her church, Our Lady of the Angels Catholic Church in Taylor, she served on the Parish council and the Vicariate Council for many years. Her support of a variety of charities was endless, but those supporting Faith, Education and the Food Pantry were closest to her heart. She believed in sharing all the blessings she had received in her life.

Gerry was a loving daughter, sister and sister-in-law and cousin. She was a special aunt to seven nieces and nephews and great-aunt to nine, all of whom are scattered throughout Michigan, North Carolina, Arizona & Hawaii. Her illness claimed this "small, but mighty woman" very quickly. She wanted everyone to know that she had a good life and was happy. Since she was so strong in faith, she helped select all of her final arrangements including music, readings and attire. DKG and Beta Delta were also important to her. This year, with great pride, she met her goal of 50 years of membership. A Charter Member, Gerry was considered the "glue" that held her chapter together. Through the years, she held various offices including several terms as President, committee member and Chapter representative for the Detroit Metro Council. In addition, she was active at the State level, attending many Alpha Iota State functions and Conventions. She especially enjoyed conventions at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island and regretted that she wouldn't be attending the event this spring. With this a part of her final thoughts, it was only fitting that she was honored in the lovely Ceremony of Remembrance/Celebration of Life that was held at the Grand Hotel in May. Rest in Peace Fine Lady, Rest in Peace.

Clarice E. Cummings, Alpha Upsilon Chapter

Our Alpha Upsilon sister was born in Belding, Michigan in between the Great Depression and the start of WWII to English born Clarence Fay and his wife Gladys. After high school Claire graduated from Michigan State University and went to work for the Ionia County Intermediate School District. Her first assignment was teaching at Fairbrook School for Special Children, a one-room school. The empathetic young teacher was so successful with her students that, after two years, she and the students were moved to a larger, three-room building, the first Forest Grove School where Clarice finally had another teacher and an aide. Four years later, the merger of Ionia and Montcalm Counties resulted in building the new Forest Grove School. Clarice became the school's administrator where she had enough space to meet the needs of her students, and her staff increased by four more teachers. She continued guiding a flourishing program there for five more years during which, in 1967, Alpha Upsilon invited her to become a member.

In 1979, Ionia County Intermediate District finished building its own school for Special Children on Harwood Rd called Freedom Acres, and Clarice, her staff and students made one last move to the wonderful facility that today still serves special students and adults. At Freedom Acres, Clarice was finally able to return to doing what she truly loved, being in the classroom with her students.

At age 45, Clarice was diagnosed with Multiple Sclerosis, but she kept on teaching for 10 more years before her increasing loss of physical strength led to her retirement in 1987. Clarice continued to return to various activities at Freedom Acres even when she was in a wheelchair. Her inspiration gave hope and strength to so many.

One of the accolades for Clarice came from the Crandall family who said that "her dedication to and advocacy for handicapped children, from the onset of services to the current programs of today, impacted many children and families in Ionia and Montcalm counties."

Through the years, Clarice was always involved with her own large family, including eventually 8 great-grandchildren! She also was a member of the Association of Business and Professional Women and, for 47 years, Alpha Upsilon where she held multiple offices through the years and was always an active member. She will be missed.

Betty Sue Peters, Gamma Chapter

A Kentucky native, our Gamma sister had a rough beginning to an inspirational, productive life. Unexpected twins, she and her sister, Mary Lou, brought much joy to her family. So, at fourteen months when she and her sister stopped walking and talking, the family was devastated by the news that the girls were two of the three polio victims in the town. Betty Sue was paralyzed on her right side and a trip to a specialist gave little hope for the girls' recovery let alone survival. Their parents took them home and prayed, putting their hope and trust in a higher power to save their daughters. The girls both made it though there were more rough times. They learned to walk and talk again after age two and went on to grow into young women who loved school, sports and especially baseball.

Both girls went on to a Baptist College where Betty Sue studied French and English and her twin studied Biology in hopes of being a doctor though, typical of the times, was discouraged for women. Mary Lou found her calling as a medical missionary to Japan for 37 years. Betty Sue, who had spent a summer at the Sorbonne in Paris, France, trained to be a teacher. She began teaching first at the Louisville Baptist High School and then taught at Cynthiana HS teaching French, English and Public Speaking as well as coaching Cheerleading. Another summer she served as a summer missionary in the mountains and then came back to study at the U of Kentucky, receiving her Master's in Foreign Language in 1960. During her time at Cynthiana, she met her future husband, Gus, who was studying to be a minister. They began their almost 55 years of marriage in 1959, and later started their family. In 1967, they received word the Church was sending them to Michigan to "plant" Southern Baptist Churches there. Though Betty Sue did not want to go to Michigan where their speech and the "Mountain People" they served were made fun of, she went. She and her husband established first Hillsdale Baptist Church and later the present-day church where Gus served as pastor for 25 years.

Betty Sue started her Michigan teaching career at Camden-Frontier by subbing and, when it was obvious she was a caring professional who took no guff from the students, she was quickly hired full time. After ten years, she went to Hillsdale HS where she continued her teaching and being that loving, caring teacher who worked to see that her students expanded their horizons. Betty Sue provided hugs to firmness, pushing the shy to come out of their shells, combining intellectual growth while inspiring them to love learning and the world they were in with trips to Knoxville for the World's Fair, to French Canada and by exposing her students to so much more than just classwork.

Betty Sue and her husband also focused their love and inspiration on their three children who followed in their parents' footsteps; the boys becoming ministers and the daughter, a teacher. Our Gamma sister also loved traveling, visiting 40 countries, and after retiring taught English in Binzhou, China for four summers. Her Gamma sisters also will miss her. Initiated in 1974, she served them as President, World Fellowship Chair and on many other committees. Betty Sue lived her life by her motto, "Today, I will do the best I can, with what I have, where I am, for God's sake."

Funding Our Purposes Silent Auction

Well, ladies you did it again! Congratulations on another outstanding "Funding Our Purposes" raffle. We had 23 large baskets or items and 23 small baskets or items. We made a record amount for our three funds, over $3400.

Without your help and generous donations, this project would not be possible. Joyce Daglow, World Fellowship Chair, extends a special "Thank You" to everyone who gave of their time to sell tickets at the auction this year. The committee appreciates your help.

We will be looking for both large and small items for the State Fall Conference in Battle Creek on October 11, 2014. We welcome donations from individual members and chapters. Needed are small items for the auction or you may create a basket. Baskets should have a theme such as gardening books for grandmothers, tea/coffee/chocolate items, Michigan items, a holiday or color theme such as green or blue. Consider using a basket that can be recycled, a laundry basket, a recycle bag, or a covered file box.

Since we are required to provide the State of Michigan with more information on our auction items, we will include a form in the President's newsletter. On this form, each donated item and basket must be described and a value noted. This also helps us determine the number of tables and space needed for the raffle.

Proceeds from the auction go to three funds:

- Scholarships
- World Fellowship
- Members Supporting Members

Your contribution to the auction also helps your chapter earn a point in # 8 criteria for the Award of the Rose.

Again, thank you for your generous participation in this important outreach.

A Parliamentary Moment

What Can We Do Now?

Merrilee Fiddlehead has just moved "that Zeta Zeta Chapter support our local students by helping them go to college." Shirley Drowsy seconded the motion and the chair stated it.

Members began to buzz. Nobody wants to vote against helping students, but this main motion itself is badly flawed, so what can we do now? Here are some options.

1. Withdraw the motion. Merrily could say: "I ask permission to withdraw the motion." A majority vote is needed since the chair has stated the motion.
2. Avoid a vote. Example: "I move to postpone the question indefinitely." To Postpone Indefinitely requires a majority vote. It kills the motion for the rest of the meeting.
3. Amend the motion. Example: "I move to amend the motion by striking 'helping them go to college' and inserting 'tutoring seniors in resume writing.'" To Amend requires a majority vote.
4. Offer a substitute motion. Example: "I move to substitute for the pending motion, 'that the president meet with the middle school principal to see how the chapter can encourage students to go to college.'" To Substitute requires a majority vote. Both the original motion and the substitute may be amended before voting to substitute. If the vote To Substitute passes, the substitute becomes the pending motion, and the chapter must then vote on whether or not to adopt it.
5. Refer the motion to a chapter committee. Example: "I move to refer the question to the Educational Excellence Committee, with instructions to recommend at least three practical ways the chapter can help local students go to college." To Refer requires a majority vote.
6. Delay the vote. Example: "I move to postpone the question until our next business meeting." To Postpone Definitely requires a majority vote. A question cannot be postponed beyond the next business session, and it can be postponed to that session only if it is within 90 days.

FOR KEY WOMEN EDUCATORS

Shaila Jehle Named the Alpha Iota State Woman of Distinction 2014

The rain and cold temperatures for the opening weekend at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island didn't stop 200 key women Michigan educators from attending Alpha Iota State's annual convention. DKG is an international honor society of 85,000 members that promotes professional and personal growth of women educators and excellence in education.

Jackie Smart, on the right, presents the Michigan State Woman of Distinction Award to Shaila Jehle.

During the convention, the Alpha Iota State Woman of Distinction Award was presented to Shaila Jehle of Howell.

Jehle taught pre-calculus in Howell Public Schools and has tutored many high school and college students in math. She has been a member of DKG since 1976, serving as chapter president, as well as, other officer levels and chapter committees.

She is active in her district coordinating council and has provided leadership for several events and celebrations. She is often turned to for advice and support by her chapter members.

At the state level, Jehle has been active since 1992, serving on various state committees. She has been the chair of research, coordinating councils, membership/expansion, leadership development, communications, approve minutes and, currently, the finance committee. She has served as registrar for the fall conference in Lansing and was state corresponding secretary.

Jehle is always available to help out at state meetings and events. She has shared her musical talent with the hand bells and flute. She has participated for many years in the Celebration of Life ceremony and has helped organize the presidents' procession line-up for many years. She has carried a flag, acted as a hostess, and done whatever was needed by offering another hand, strong back or back-up of any kind. She is a go-to person when in need of ideas, labor or support.

At the international level, Jehle has attended Northeast Regional Conference in Traverse City and international conventions in Detroit, Columbus, and Minneapolis.

Family is very important to Jehle. She spent many days commuting from Howell to Hillsdale to care for her mother. She spends quality time with her grandchildren and their school activities and is very active in the United Methodist Church in Howell. She directs and teaches students in the hand-bell choir and often plays her flute during services. The love of gardening has resulted in becoming a master gardener. Hostas are her specialty. Jehle has also helped to organize a large church garden to feed the hungry in her community.

2013 - 2014 Chapter Yearbook Awards

This year the yearbook committee greatly enjoyed learning more about the lives of thirty one Alpha Iota chapters. The chapter yearbook was started as a way to share Society, state organization, chapter and coordinating council information with members. As times change, it has grown to include chapter history, programs, special events, member contact information and photographs and a way for chapter members to stay connected. It is a great way for new members to find out about their chapter and the Society and to learn who their members are by looking at their photographs and becoming familiar with them before meetings. It also helps State officers find out what is happening in your chapter and appreciate all that is going on in your area of the state.

There were four award categories. All yearbooks had to be received by Dec. 1st. They could be paper copy, CD or a website and were submitted along with an evaluation form. The Admirable Award was given to those who just submitted. The Praiseworthy Award were to those who gave most of the information in 1-4. The Pacesetter Award was given to those who included all the information in 1-4 and some in 5 and the Exemplary Award was given to those who included all the information in 1-4 and at least 5 of the Optional Inclusions.

The committee would like to thank each of the 31 editors for the all of their time, hard work and dedication in putting together their chapter yearbooks and for sending them in to our committee for our enjoyment in getting to know your Chapter better. I also would like to thank my committee members for their hard work, time and energy spent on this project.

Coordinating Councils:

The Coordinating Councils were very active this springtime! I was able to enjoy the sisterhood and the creative programs during March and April.

On March 22nd, the Capital Area Coordinating Council hosted Matinga Ragatz, Michigan Teacher of the Year (2010-2011) to learn of her current contributions to the international field of education. Mrs. Ragatz's lessons for us are: "embrace cultural changes, make new goals, learn new skills, stay relevant, live what you teach!"

On April 5th, the River Lake Coordinating Council held its Birthday Celebration at the Lakeview Hills Golf Resort in Lexington, Michigan. These ladies really know how to have a wonderful and joyous time. They planned many activities which showcased their loving senses of humor. The venue and the food were perfect, as was the sunny day. All of us left glowing with Delta Kappa Gamma sisterhood.

On April 12th, the Oakland County Coordinating Council held its Annual Birthday Celebration at the Forest Lake Country Club in Bloomfield Hills. Carol Murphy of Operation School Bell shared her volunteer activities in the greater Detroit community. The brunch was delicious and was served with elegance. Our Oakland County DKG sisters were delightful hostesses!

On April 26th, three Coordinating Councils held their annual meetings: Detroit Metro Council held its Birthday Celebration at Karl's Cabin in Plymouth, that featured Nancy Geiger, the Apron Lady and "The Stories that Aprons Tell;" the Flint Area Council held its Brunch and Birthday Celebration at Atlas Country Club in Grand Blanc; and a surprise event was organized by the Konawa Coordinating Council.

I was able to travel to Grand Rapids, to the Grand Rapids Women's City Club (GRWCC) to enjoy a delightful historical role playing by the current president of the GRWCC, Marilyn Brune and our Delta Kappa Gamma Sisters of the Konawa Council. Mrs. Brune portrayed "Desdemona Sweet," the original matriarch of the lovely home where the celebration took place. Many of us wore our lovely hats, gloves, and gowns as we were taken back more than 100 years to learn the history of the Sweet family and the history of Grand Rapids. Many period photographs punctuated the presentation as our imaginations took us back to those early days of adventure. The luncheon was delightful as was the enjoyment of each other's company.

Thank you very much for including me in your Coordinating Council events. Each event left me glowing with the appreciation of my hostesses and the gratitude for being a member of Delta Kappa Gamma. We are very, very fortunate to belong to such a warm, inviting, stimulating group of professional, women educators.

SAVE THE DATE: November 1, 2014: The Cascades Council will meet at the Cascades Manor House, 1970 Kibby Rd., Jackson MI 49203

Personal Growth & Services Icebreaker

Icebreakers can play an important role in helping people integrate and connect with one another in a group environment. Icebreakers can also enhance your meetings by stimulating cooperation and participation. They can provide positive momentum for small groups by:

- ◆ Helping a new group get to know one another
- ◆ Helping new members to integrate into a group
- ◆ Helping people feel comfortable together
- ◆ Encouraging cooperation
- ◆ Encouraging listening to others
- ◆ Encouraging working together

Name That Person

Give each person a blank piece of card. Ask them to write five little known facts about themselves on their card. Collect the cards. Draw a card from the pile and read the facts.

Have members try to "Name That Person" in a few clues as possible. You can keep score if desired. Five points if one guesses the name on the first clue, then 4, 3, 2, 1, 0. The person with the most points wins. (Note: if the reader selects the most obscure facts first, it will increase the level of competition and general head scratching!)

Invite Any State Officer for a Chapter Visit

As your chapter plans for the upcoming year, please consider and schedule a visit from your president and other officers. Any of the officers are willing and eager to come your way to share news or just be a guest. Perhaps you are doing something special that you would like to share, a new member initiation, a birthday celebration, a special speaker or program. Your president and state officers would like to spend time with your chapter members. Take advantage of this opportunity!

You should find the forms for visitations on the state website, www.deltakappagamma.org/MI After completing the forms, send them to:

Sandy Downs

"DoD STARBASE"- What's it All About

Bruce Medaugh, Director of the Department of Defense STARBASE Battle Creek, shares how you take fifth grade students and expose them to the technological environments and positive role models found on military bases, then you provide them 25 hours of exemplary instruction using a common core curriculum that meets or exceeds the National Standards and you will nurture a winning network of collaborators and build mutual loyalty. The goal is to motivate them to explore Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) as they continue their education. The target group is students who are inner city or rural, socio-economically disadvantaged, low in academic performance or have a disability. Students are encouraged to set goals and achieve them. Join Bruce Medaugh as he engages you in a few of the "hands-on, mind-on" experiential activities used in STARBASE. He will show you how the inquiry based curriculum applies abstract principles to real world situations by leading tours and giving lectures on the use of STEM in different settings, careers and different branches of the military, making the experiences highly varied. Learn how your community schools can participate in a STARBASE program. * SCECH

Detroit Metro Coordinating Council

Detroit Metro Coordinating Council held their annual spring gathering at Karl's Cabin in Plymouth. The guest speaker was Nancy Geiger, "The Apron Lady." Nancy brought her collection of beautifully homemade aprons. She said, "If we listen to the stories that aprons tell, we can learn about women's historical roles, fashion trends, and 20th Century American culture." Table favors, programs, and the door prize used the apron theme. Many members wore their aprons to the luncheon.

During the luncheon, Chapter Women of Distinction were honored by State President Liz VanWestenburg. Each chapter shared the reasons for selecting the honored member. Honorees were: Alice Andre, Alpha; Linda Pastucha, Zeta; Marcia Ellis, Kappa; Dr. Geraldine Green of Beta Delta (posthumous); and Lynne Elsesser, Gamma Alpha.

A celebration of life ceremony was held to honor our friends, colleagues, and members - Dr. Paula Dent and Dr. Gerry Green. During their lifetime, these women were all the Society represents - key woman educators. They lived a full life as professionals and as members of Delta Kappa Gamma. They were educators who changed the lives of the children, parents and others with whom they came in contact. They were educational leaders. They have left us a legacy that we must embrace, the mission of our Society, to promote professional and personal growth of women educators and excellence in education.

Phi Chapter Supports Area Young Writers Conference

The Traverse City Phi Chapter had a unique opportunity this spring. They were asked to support and participate in the Traverse City area's first Young Writers Conference in May. The conference was being coordinated by one of their fellow members, Karen McClatchey and sponsored by Northwestern Michigan College (NMC). At their April meeting, members assembled goodie bags containing 8 items for distribution to each conference participant. Phi members were also asked to volunteer on conference day as greeters and guides, at registration and as student chaperones. Phi Chapter Phi Lings Newsletter editor, Rita Sleeman, was the official photographer for the conference.

The Young Writers Conference began as the dream and the brain child of Phi member Karen McClatchey who several years ago pitched the idea to NMC. Almost four hundred attendees in the five county area were present, on the Northwestern Michigan college campus. Students in 3rd through 5th grade, teachers, and parents had an opportunity to meet children's author and Newberry winner, Lynne Rae Perkins and also Jeffery Schatzer, another recognized children's author. Students spent the whole day on campus. They also heard other widely recognized authors and illustrators, bloggers, song writers, film makers, and many other genres. Before lunch students shared their polished pieces of writing or book in small groups that was facilitated by area high school students.

NMC is now in the planning stages for another conference in 2016 as it takes reserving ahead two years to book nationally recognized authors. Phi Chapter will be asked to continue to play a valuable role in the next conference as Karen McClatchey is continuing as coordinator. Thanks Phi Chapter members for saying "Yes" and for a job well

Gamma Chapter Book Project Honors 75 Years

Gamma Chapter of Hillsdale and Branch counties recently celebrated its 75th birthday along with Alpha Iota State. This double celebration needed special recognition and Gamma chapter chose to celebrate by donating books to local school libraries.

Schools in both counties were contacted requesting book titles. Members replied to the challenge with either a book or monetary donations. The schools that replied received up to ten books for their students to enjoy reading. In all, 118 books were donated. ## Alpha Theta Members Earn Red Noses

Alpha Theta Chapter traveled to Detroit, in May, to tour the Parade Studio. The Studio is the home of the Detroit Thanksgiving Parade. It is housed in the old Chrysler factory that was designed by Albert Kahn. We saw many of the floats from this year's and past parades. All the famous "Big Heads" were there, too. The Studio is a year-round business that builds floats for events all across the country. They also have a costume department to suit up all the volunteers.

Our chapter president, Pam Olech, was a volunteer at the last parade. She arranged our trip so we could share in all the fun. The red noses are our souvenirs!

Alpha Xi Chapter Reaches Their Goal For Historic One-Room Schoolhouse

Retired teacher Midge Connon remembers a time when creature comforts like running water and indoor plumbing were not automatic givens at country schools throughout the Alpena School district. "There was no indoor plumbing and no running water whatsoever," said Connon of the one-room Green School she attended from first grade through eighth grade.

Those days are long gone, but not Connon's memories of learning in a one-room setting, which she gladly shares with young students of today. So too, do her fellow Delta Kappa Gamma Alpha Xi chapter members, who for many years now have taken on the historic Green School as a pet project.

Constructed in 1895 in Green Township, the school operated continuously through 1961. In April 1981 the wooden structure was donated to the Besser Museum for Northeast Michigan. Funds were raised and the school was moved 18 miles to its current location on the museum grounds.

To enhance the experience of students visiting the museum, DKG members researched the history of the school's old-time curriculum and developed an educational packet around it.

"Some of the subjects taught were ornithology and agriculture," Connon said. "That's all on record at the state archives. In the early days of school, students only went for 180 days because of planting and harvesting."

While on field trips to the museum, today's teachers use the packets developed by DKG to teach their students about what school was like in the Alpena area 100 years ago. The packets were updated in recent years to also reflect current educational requirements in the state curriculum.

DKG's commitment to Green School remains ever strong. Upon learning that the school was in need of some major repairs, including repairs to windows, siding and doors, and giving the structure a fresh coat of paint, they took ownership of raising the necessary funds.

"Members of DKG greatly value the educational and cultural heritage Green School brings to our community, and have been earnestly working to raise money for the repairs needed to preserve the one-room schoolhouse," said Besser Museum Director Chris Witulski.

Over the past 12 months, DKG members secured both private donations and grant funding from a Rural Partners of Michigan Community Grant, the Women's Giving Circle, the Community Foundation of Northeast Michigan and through a recent newspaper plea for the last $1400 of the $7200. Alpha XI Chapter was finally able to reach their goal. They are pleased that they could preserve this unique piece of history that played an important role in the lives of so many others in Northeast Michigan and it will continue to impact the future of students who come to Besser Museum to experience what life was like in a one-room school house.

Mackinac Island Historical Parks and The Architecture of Summer Cottages

Nina Keener with Steven Brisson, Deputy Director of the Mackinac State Historic Parks, who gave the history of Mackinac Island. His slide presentation covered about three centuries. The Native Americans were the first to come because of the fishing. The history included the French missions, the fur trade, the English and Indian problems, and wars involving all three. Because of its strategic location, the island has evolved over the years as an historical tourist location. Later that day, Mr. Brisson shared information on the Architecture of Mackinac Island's summer cottages. The quintessential ingredient for a Mackinac Island summer cottage is a large wraparound porch with direct entry to the great room. A cottage lacks a grand staircase and plaster walls that would crack in winter weather. Wicker furniture is a must so the summer breezes can cool the occupants properly. Mr. Brisson highlighted the following styles: Carpenter, Gothic, Queen Anne, Shingle Style, Classical Revival, and Prairie.

He explained the "crooked yet solid" construction and exuberant color scheme of the décor.

The Grand Hotel has fiercely fought over the years, to establish and maintain its reputation as a grand destination offering more than clean rooms, good food and a pretty place. Over the years the hotel has boasted gas lights, working elevators, a dog track, speakeasy, and slot machines. The Grand Hotel has survived by carefully crafting summer memories that last a lifetime.
