

SCHOOLS FOR AFRICA

TRANSFORMING LIVES
THROUGH EDUCATION

EVERY CHILD DESERVES A QUALITY EDUCATION

In sub-Saharan Africa, one-third of all children are deprived of the chance to go to school. They miss out because of inadequate school facilities and poor teacher training. In addition, many schools lack gender-separate sanitation facilities, often causing adolescent girls to stay home. Poverty also forces children to drop out of school early to help support their families.

Schools for Africa is a partnership among UNICEF, the Nelson Mandela Foundation, and the Hamburg Society that is helping more and more girls and boys get a quality education. By providing funds to support this critical program, The Delta Kappa Gamma Society International — a professional organization of women educators and a longstanding U.S. Fund for UNICEF partner — is helping to secure a brighter future for Africa's children.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

With Support from The Delta Kappa Gamma Society International and Others, the Schools for Africa Program Is...

- Benefiting nearly 5 million children, with a special emphasis on girls, orphans, and children living in extreme poverty
- Increasing access to basic quality education in 11 of Africa's neediest countries: Angola, Burkina Faso, Ethiopia, Madagascar, Malawi, Mali, Mozambique, Niger, Rwanda, South Africa, and Zimbabwe
- Building and rehabilitating almost 1,000 schools
- Training nearly 100,000 teachers
- Supplying notebooks, pens, desks, chairs, and other essential school materials
- Making sure schools have clean, safe drinking water and separate bathrooms for girls and boys
- Creating schools that offer a protective environment.

UNICEF'S WORK WITH EDUCATION

For more than 60 years, UNICEF has worked to provide every boy and girl around the world with an education. Substantial strides have been made in recent years, and UNICEF's experience and influence with governments are helping to create lasting and sustainable change.

But despite progress, too many children in Africa are still unable to attend school. With strong partners like The Delta Kappa Gamma Society International, we can reach the day when all children — no matter their birthplace or circumstances — can grow up to lead healthy, safe, and productive lives. With your support, UNICEF can provide quality education to the most disadvantaged children in Africa.

Thank you very much for considering a gift to UNICEF's Schools for Africa campaign.

A NEW SCHOOL GIVES CHILDREN A SAFE, DRY PLACE TO LEARN

In Zimbabwe, Agnes Mutima has been caring for her six grandchildren since their mothers died. She's eager for the children to get a good education — and that includes having a safe, dry place to learn. "These are our children and they need a good environment to study in," says Ms. Mutima. She was thrilled when UNICEF's Schools for Africa program came to her village to build a new school. "When it rained, these children were rained on — when it was cold, they were very cold. This will now change, and they will have a proper primary education."

Donate now to help transform families, communities — and countries. Your gift of education is the chance of a better life.
